ARTICLE ACCESS

First, find your article and get the citation information

So, you have searched the database and now have a list of articles you want to read. How can you access the articles?

Follow the easy, three-step process detailed inside to retrieve an article from Gold Rush
Enter the journal title and hit "Search". A citation should include the journal title, article title, year, volume or issue, and page numbers.

From the Library homepage, click on "eJournals" and then "Gold Rush".

Click the journal title you want, "JAMA". Click on the "Full Text Resources Online" link to take you to the Journal website.

Click here to search for the article by volume and issue. Look at the dates for the volumes available.
